It is part of the Aga Khan Education Services (AKES), one of the largest pre-tertiary education networks across East Africa, the Middle East and South and Central Asia, with a vast majority of its schools located in rural and remote communities where access to quality education is limited. AKES is part of the Aga Khan Schools (AKS), an agency within the Aga Khan Development Network. AKS comprises a network of 200 schools, more than 100 non-formal education programme centres and eight hostels, serving almost 110,000 students from the age of 18 months to adulthood each year across 12 countries.
